

NUR 316C : Adult Clinical II

This clinical course provides students with increasingly complex opportunities in an adult acute care setting. Health promotion and maintenance, disease prevention and illness management will be integrated into the care of diverse clients. Emphasis is placed on critical thinking, pharmacology, professional communication, and professional nursing roles. Evidence-based clinical decisions will be analyzed in the provision of client-centered care.

Credits 3

Prerequisites

All previously required support courses; junior standing in nursing.