

NUR 418 : Nursing Leadership

This course integrates leadership and management principles in preparing students for professional roles within diverse healthcare settings. The legal, ethical, and political responsibilities of the nurse are analyzed. Students critically examine emerging trends, issues, and their implications for collaborative professional practice.

Credits 3

Prerequisites

All previously required support courses; senior standing in nursing or consent of the faculty.